

ORGANIC FOOD STORE & WHOLEFOODS Co-OPERATIVE

COMMUNITY GARDEN

GREEN WASTE RECYCLING

SOURCE was initiated in 2005 by a group of students & community members interested in creating a more sustainable future. The centre provides a place to explore social and environmental issues, acting as a living example of urban sustainability which encourages community involvement and creativity. It is located on French St, Sandy Bay Campus of UTAS.

SOURCE is entirely volunteer driven & not-for-profit. It incorporates:

A FOOD STORE & CO-OPERATIVE providing affordable organic, local, minimally packaged & fair trade goods. Our beautiful straw bale building will be used as the store and community space.

A COMMUNITY GARDEN providing a fun & healthy way for people to spend time together, share valuable skills & grow their own food. The site includes native revegetation, interpretive signs & a wood-fired pizza oven.

GREEN WASTE RECYCLING that will transform wastes from campus food outlets into compost, converting them into a valuable resource for the garden.

SOURCE is only in its infancy, and may be used in the future as a community meeting place, workshop venue & teaching space ... get involved - the possibilities are endless!
